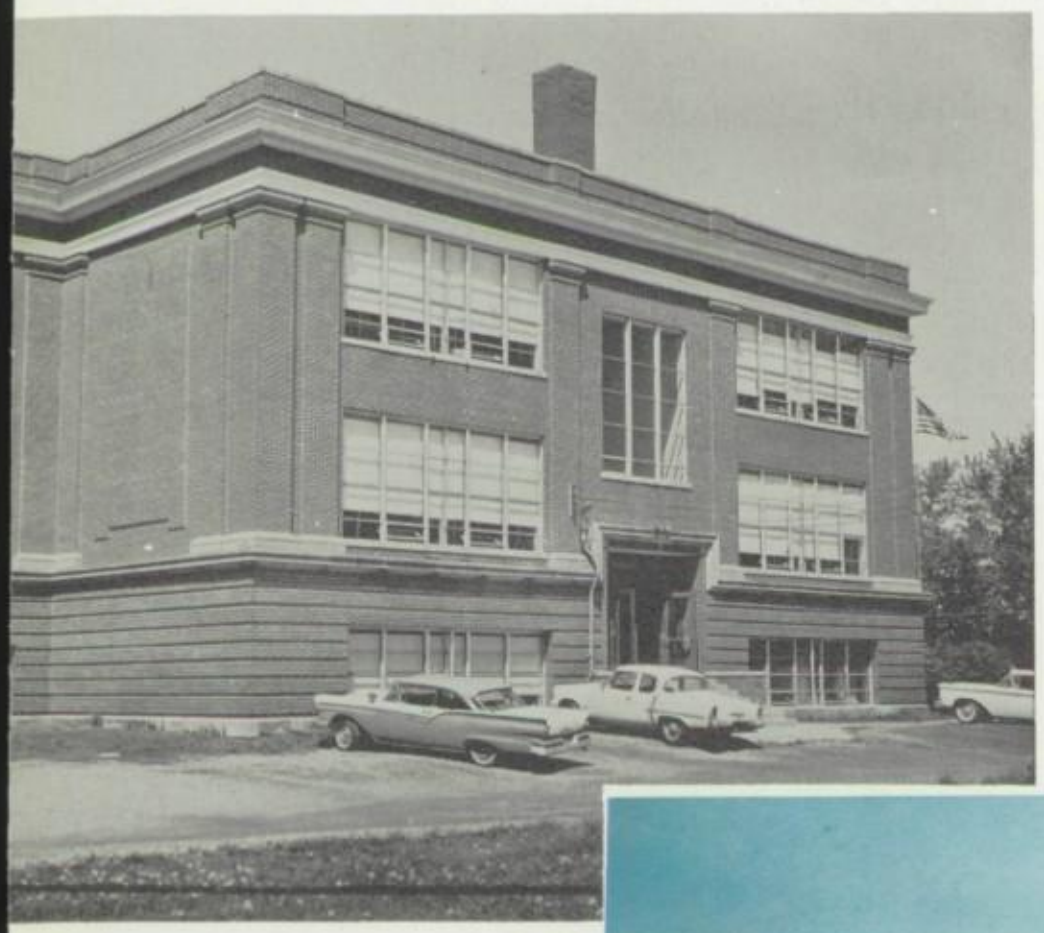
We take a giant step



In the childhood game of "May I", we learn that steps are of different kinds and sizes . . . . . that the biggest privilege we could be granted was a "giant step". Now as we prepare for life, we realize that in this year at Ben Davis High School we have had the wonderful privilege of taking a great stride toward our goals.

This book is published to serve not only as a memory book of the joys we knew and the good times we had, but also as a picture-record of the school year 1958-1959 when we asked and were given permission by our Alma Mater to take a "Giant Step" toward the future.

Marion Dierdorf, senior, received the Daughters of the American Revolution Award this year.

Dave Phillips, Marjorie Pettitt, and Phyllis Cravens, all Ben Davis seniors hold the band trophies Ben Davis received this year.

...by earning awards

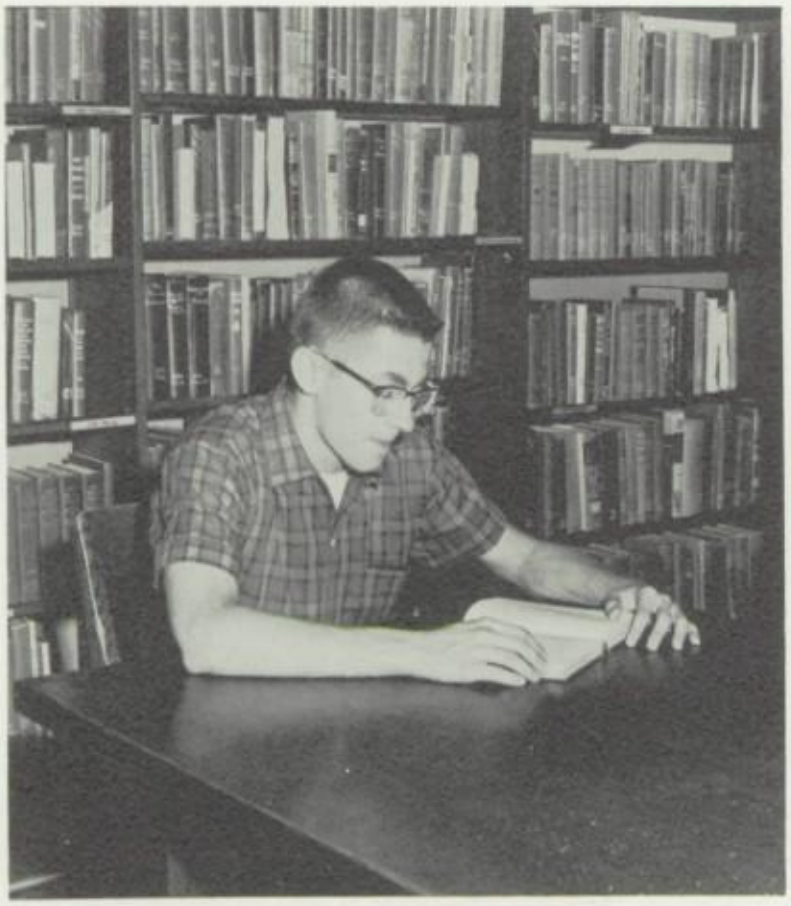
Tim Mongan and Dave Huston demonstrate how they gave Ben Davis honor this year. Tim won the state, and Dave was runner-up.

Throughout the school year many students and groups of students receive awards. Among these are the D.A.R. Award, the Betty Crocker Award, the sports awards, and the band awards.

Marion Dierdorf was the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award, which is based on general good citizenship. Also winner of the Betty Crocker Award, Marion was graded best on the basis of a competitive test concerning homemaking.

The band has received many awards this year. Among these were first place in the Riverview Park Tournament of Bands in Chicago competing with 140 other bands, first place in the State Lions Convention at French Lick, and third place at the Indiana State Fair where 90 other bands were competing for top honors.

Tim Mongan has earned the reputation of being an exceptionally good high school wrestler by winning first place in the 175 pound weight class in statewide competition. Dave Huston has also gained recognition in the athletic department of Ben Davis by taking second place in the state meet in the 103 pound weight class.



Dale Henderson takes time to study up before a Latin test. Dale placed third in the state in a Vergil contest.

Sharon Burrows is the recipient of a certificate of merit in the state Spanish contest.

and winning honors

Every year the "cream of the crop" in the math department compete in the regional contest. If the contestants are lucky enough to win at the regional, they travel to the state competition at Indiana University. This year Ben Davis had 15 math entries, 2 Latin entries, and 1 Spanish entry. From these Dale Henderson won a bronze medal in Vergil, Larry Martin an Honorable Mention in Vergil. In math, Melvin Scott Jr. won a silver medal in algebra, Robert Rigdon a silver medal in geometry, and Tom Howald received a silver medal in Comprehensive. Sharon Burrows received a certificate of merit in the Spanish division.

State math winners are; STANDING: Larry Henderson, bronze medal; Barbara Hameetman, bronze medal; and Tom Howald, silver. SITTING: Robert Rigdon, silver medal; Mary Ann Spahr, bronze medal and Melvin Scott, silver medal.

...in scholastic achievement

The Valedictorian of the senior class is chosen strictly on scholastic standing. However, the top student of the 1958 senior class proved that it's not all work and no play.

Brenda Dudziak participated in Student Council, National Honor Society, Thespians, National Forensics League, Booster Club, Sunshine Society, Safety Driver's Club, Latin Club, A Cappella Choir, Cadet Choir, Junior Classical League, and Madrigal Singers. She held the following offices as vice-president of the Mask and Gavel and Trialge.

During her four years at Ben Davis, she received the following awards: state algebra award, state geometry award, state comprehensive award, and the Latin award.

Brenda is now attending Purdue University on a $2,000 scholarship awarded by U. S. Steel, a special merit scholarship, and a Purdue University alumni fee of admission.

Salutatorian of the 1958 senior class was Elaine Daughtee. Elaine ranked second in the entire senior class and enjoyed many activities during her high school career.

She participated in the following activities at Ben Davis: National Honor Society, Thespians, National Forensics League, Booster Club, Sunshine Society, Youth for Christ, Latin Club, Junior Classical League, Cadet Choir, Freshman Choir, Marching Band, Bellaires, Chess Club, and Bowling Club. Elaine also held the offices of historian of Mask and Gavel and secretary of Trialge.

She is now attending Purdue University on a state scholarship awarded by Purdue and a fee admission to the school.

Dale Hendersen has earned the honor of being 1959 Valedictorian from the Senior Class of Ben Davis High School, which means he ranks first in scholastic standing among his senior classmates.

If service to Ben Davis through club activities were being judged, Dale would also rank highly. His activities include the following: membership in Junior Classical League and Trialge Club, presidency of the National Honor Society, vice-presidency of his junior and senior classes, first vice-president of the Mask and Gavel Club and Hi-Y, and sergeant-at-arms for Quill and Scroll Society. He was also on the reserve wrestling squad, was awarded a bronze medal for a high score on a Vergil test in state competition, attended Hoosier Boy's State, and took a trip to the United Nations.

Dale received a scholarship by the National Honor Society to any college of his choice.

Salutatorian is the student who delivers the welcome address at the beginning of the commencement exercises. Nonie Short was given the title of Salutatorian of the 1959 Senior Class this year.

Nonie has been a member of the National Honor Society for three years. She participated in the state math contest for four years in which she has won three medals and has been an active member of both Trialge and Chess Clubs. Nonie was the president of Mu Alpha Theta and point secretary of the Sunshine Society.

She was awarded $900 for a National Merit Scholarship to Indiana University.

This was a glorious day for Anna Mae Eastham as Madison T. Shadley handed to her a key to the future.

...through beginning new traditions

Many activities during the school year will be long remembered by all of the students, but when that last year rolls around everything takes on a little added glamour. Memories are being stored away for the day when our grandchildren crawl upon our knee and say, "Grandma (or Grandpa), tell me what you did when you were in high school."

This is when many of the students of Ben Davis will describe such activities as the donkey basketball game, the spring music festival, '59 Senior varieties, and the enchanted evening at the prom, which few people will ever forget the fun and glamour that accomplished it, are only a few of the moments that filled the lives of 1958 B.D. pupils.

The final ceremony to climax the four years of hard work by every graduating senior was when each received his diploma at commencement. And it is hoped that the memories which every senior takes with him will stay with him as a living momentum of the many opportunities he enjoyed as a student of Ben Davis High School.

One of the dances featured in our music festival was the Jungle dance. Henry Barnard (in middle) is practicing his voodoo on Elaine Chaille, Sandy Kinney, Sandy Jessup, Mary Ann Spahr, and Patty Pruett.

One of the main activities enjoyed by Ben Davis juniors and seniors each year is the Junior, Senior Prom. This is a familiar scene at the prom; a group of students sitting around a table between dances.

Each year the Ben Davis Lion's Club sponsors a Donkey Basketball Game for the purpose of earning money for their scholarship fund which is given to a graduating senior on Honor Day.

School Life 59

. . . in English development

Verbs, participles, poetry, and short stories are just a few of the subjects read and studied by the 1761 pupils in the English department under the direction of Mrs. Brenda Campbell. Courses may be taken all of the four years of high school, however, only three years are required.

There are several elective courses offered if one wishes to continue his study and increase his knowledge of grammar and literature. Such courses are: Speech I, II, III, and IV, which include panel discussions, oral reports, history of drama, play production, and debating; Journalism I, which is the study of modern daily newspapers and news writing; and Library Science, which is student help in the Library.

Courses offered only to seniors are College Composition and English Literature (college prep courses), and Bible Literature.

A new course will be offered to Ben Davis students in the coming year. English Developmental Reading will be offered as another college preparatory course for above average students desiring to improve their reading speed.

Miss Rose Ann Haak gives Carolyn Noe some extra assistance in preparing for her final exams.

Mr. Hansell tries to point out a few of the facts about speech to Miss Croft, a student speech teacher.

Mrs. Beneda Campbell helps her class study for a coming test in College Composition.

Watching her students' form is Mrs. Flora Faust who is giving her class a five minute timed writing. Timed writings are used to find how fast a student types and the number of mistakes he makes in a certain length of time.

and business preparation

Students Linda Lewis and Sandy Wade are kept "on their toes" during a test as Mrs. Florence Gaerte checks their technique.

The world of business is constantly looking for qualified persons to enter the field. The opportunities are numerous and the demand is great. Ben Davis has a sufficient commerce department to give its students a basic background for business and prepare them for a secretarial or clerical job. Many of the commerce students receive a job before leaving high school through the department head, Mrs. Jessie Kirk, who recommends various students to businesses that call for her assistance in securing a secretary or other person in the field of business. Some take the Civil Service test and receive government jobs if they successfully pass the test.

Eleven members of the faculty are teachers in the commerce department, and approximately 1200 students are enrolled in the different business courses. The following courses are offered: Bookkeeping I, II, III, & IV; Shorthand I, II, III, & IV; Typing I, II, & III; Selling & Retailing I & II; General Business I & II; Clerical Practice; and Comptometer Operating. Senior Typing is also offered as a one semester course to non-commercial seniors.

Each year at the annual Honor Day convocation, the commerce department rewards deserving commerce majors on the basis of their scholastic achievement. This year's school award was given to Sue Shopp.

Ronnie Coulter, Sharon Horton, and Jeanette Noe contribute money for the scholarship of the Junior Classical League while Mrs. Helen Wampler, Latin teacher looks on.

...through the study of foreign languages

"South of the border, down Mexico way!" And heading that way are Janet Troutt, Bonnie Thomas, Charley McCullen and George Wildman, who demonstrate the attire worn by the Spanish people.

The world is very large, but the peoples of the world are growing closer together. Different countries have different languages which sometimes creates a barrier. Many people are learning new languages and expanding their knowledge though, and this is demonstrated at Ben Davis in the Language Department, under Mrs. Helen Mercer.

The following courses are offered in the department: Beginning Latin, Caesar, Cicero, Vergil; Beginning Spanish, and second year Spanish. Two hundred and forty-five pupils are enrolled in Beginning Latin, 90 in Caesar, 22 in Cicero, 70 in Beginning Spanish, and 20 in second year Spanish.

Beginning Spanish and Latin are offered to freshman students, and the advanced courses follow a normal procedure. Cicero and Vergil are offered in alternate years at Ben Davis. These courses are enjoyed by the students that take them, and it gives them the experience of learning about other countries and their customs. Usually advanced Latin pupils like Vergil best.

A foreign language is very useful to any person. Latin is the building block of English, and many of our laws of government were patterned from the Roman government. Spanish proves very valuable to any student taking it because it is the language of our nearest neighbor.

At present the Latin Club at Ben Davis, which is affiliated with the National Junior Classical League, is one of the largest in the state.

Pointing out a place of importance on the world map is Mr. Mimis Antonopoulos as his World History class watches.

customs, world problems

What has happened in the past, what is happening now, and what could happen in the future are all part of Social Studies.

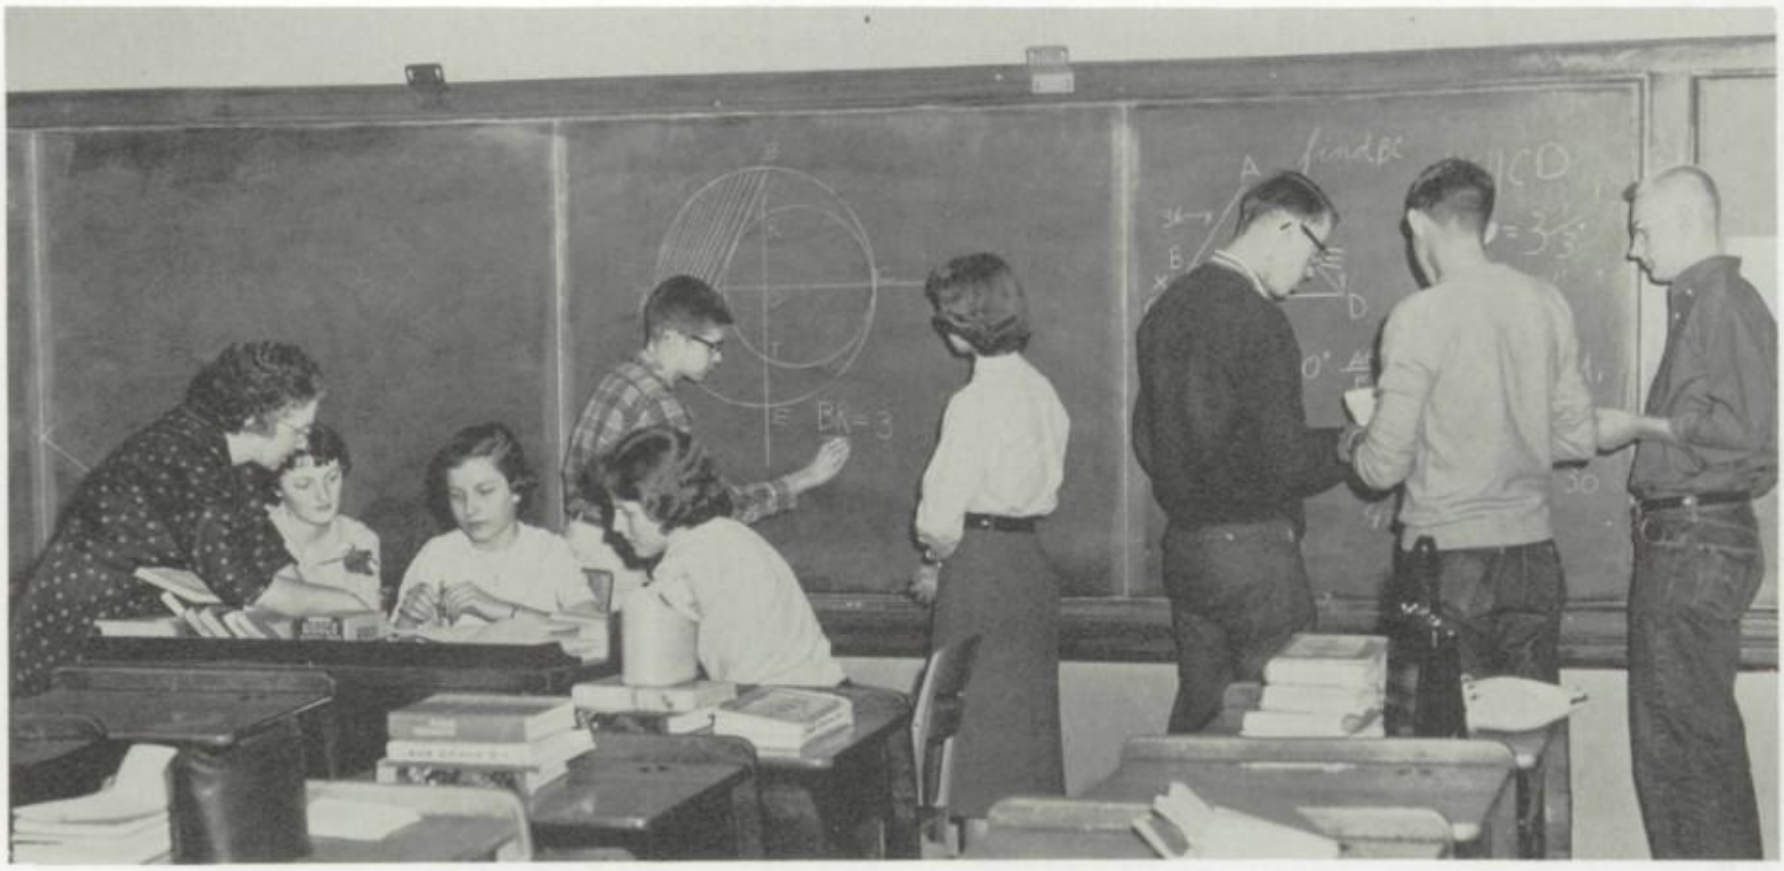
Four semesters of Social Studies are required including two semesters of United States History and one of Government. Although these are the only required subjects in this department, there are many others offered. There are approximately 1200 pupils enrolled in the Social Studies Department.

The teachers and the subjects they teach are as follows: Mr. Mimis Antonopoulos, Mr. Harvey Laughlin, Mr. William Price, and Mr. Woodrow Staton, United States history; Mr. John Bradley, Mr. William Henley, and Mr. James Ray, world history; Miss Olive Carruthers, government and Social Studies Department Head; Mr. William Price, geography; and economics and psychology are taught by Mr. John Shaw.

In United States history you gain a knowledge of the early life in America right up to the present day, while world history acquaints the student with men and nations all over the world from the beginning of recorded time.

Mr. John Shaw is using the frustration board in his psychology class on Judy Sater, Nancy Reid, and Marcia Decker.

...by preparing for the



Solving many difficult math problems is one of the daily duties of Mrs. Helen Poince, Geometry teacher. Here she is helping Jo Ann Green, Mary Ann Spahr, and Barbara Hameetman as Mike Foster, George Silca, and Larry Henderson wait their turn to present a problem that has puzzled them.

Jack Williams is receiving a reward for his hard work in the mathematics department from Miss Martin. On honor day many students feel that all the work has been worth the time and effort.

An added interest in the mathematics department of Ben Davis High School has been shown this year by the enrollment of approximately 1000 students in the various math classes.

"Ben Davisites" are beginning to realize the importance of math in this entering "Space Age". It is the opinion of many educational leaders throughout the nation that a good mathematics background is almost imperative to a well-rounded education today.

Among the math courses offered at B. D. are the following: general math, shop math, four semesters of algebra, three of geometry, two of trigonometry, and one of college algebra.

Ben Davis students have the opportunity of doubling up in the math courses offered in order to take more high school math than is normally offered in the eight semesters. The advantage of this is that these students may have the opportunity of entering into the more advanced math courses when they enter college. One example of this is the new course that is being offered at B. D. which is college algebra. This is a one-semester course offered only in the second semester to prepare seniors for college mathematics.

dawning space age

Student demonstration is a technique used sometimes in Mr. Poe's Botany course. Here Rita Harrison leades the class discussion on the different parts of the permatophytes while Mr. Victor Poe listens to that Rita is correct in her definitions.

The leaders of America proclaim to the youth of our country the need for thorough preparation for living in a scientific age. The enrollment of 600 pupils in the Science Department certainly shows a definite interest in this field by some of the students of Ben Davis High School. The four divisions of the Science Department, in which these 600 pupils are distributed are Biology, Botany, Physics, and Chemistry.

At the present Physics is the most advanced area of the Science Department. Before taking Physics a student must have had Algebra and Geometry. According to Mr. Daryl Miller, Head of the Science Department, a course in advanced science will be offered in the near future. This course is available only to a group of selected pupils, and therefore will become the most advanced area in the department.

The enrollment in science classes is expected to increase by a large margin next year. The number of Biology students will double. There will be three large classes of Physics, five large classes of Botany, and four large classes of Chemistry. The increase in the biology classes is due to the fact that only sophomores and a few select freshmen can take Biology. These freshmen must make above average grades and must be interested in continuing his study of science.

...through building an interest in art

Teaching art is a full-time job. Here Mrs. Nelson is supervising an advanced class.

Paintings, charcoals, chalks, and other drawings decorate the walls of room 101. You guessed it; it's the art room.

Mrs. Faye Nelson, head of the Art Department, has enrolled in her classes 90 students, all of which are distributed in Art I through VIII.

The Art Department does paintings and drawings in many phases. The students work in still life, landscape, and designs in oil, water color, and ink.

Benefits such as posters, signs for convocations and athletic games, and scenery for the dramatic department productions are just a few of the projects provided by this department.

Students who are outstanding in the field of art enter in such contests as a Poppy poster and safety poster contest. There are also scholastic awards offered to the art students who show future talent in their art work.

John Herron Art Institute offers scholarships to students who wish to study art further. The scholarship offered by the institute is awarded to any eligible art student who wishes to attend Saturday classes for one year. Any eligible art senior may apply for a college scholarship.

In an art class Bill Bettagg thoughtfully paints with oils.

Music is the science and art of the rhythmic combination of tones, vocal or instrumental, embracing melody and harmony. The Music Department of Ben Davis spends many hours trying to develop tones that will produce pleasant and finer qualities in musical entertainment.

Mr. William Roderick and Mr. Ralph Chandler direct the choral and instrumental groups at Ben Davis six periods each day.

The choir is divided into several groups with the A Cappella and Madrigal Choirs as the chief goal that all chorus students hope someday to enter.

The band is divided into an A and a B band. B band is called Cadet Band and is set aside for students who wish to someday be eligible for A band but need more practice. From the A band comes the "Marching Giants" which performs at many public appearances such as the 500 parade and the welcoming of celebrities.

Both groups have done much to bring honor and recognition to Ben Davis High School throughout the state of Indiana.

"Open wide," says Mr. William Roderick, the head of the A Cappella Choir. Here he is showing the choir how to hold their mouths.

Music is in the air! And it was at the first showing of the Spring Festival. Here the Freshman Choir was adding their arrangements to the program.

Betty Thompson looks on as Miss Harriet Wilkinson, head of Home Ec. department tells Pat Hart how to sew in a zipper.

...as we prepare for everyday life

This is a typical Home Ec. I class. Mrs. Martha Welch watches as the girls go about their duties in preparing feeds.

The mothers and fathers of tomorrow are becoming better acquainted with the responsibilities, duties, and problems of making a future home through the Home Economics Department of Ben Davis High School.

It is apparent that at least 450 students, 67 of which are boys, are making plans for the most important career of their life.

Subjects offered include: Home Ec. I and III where cooking and preserving food is taught; Home Ec. II and IV is concerned with making and mending clothing; Home Ec. V teaches marriage and family living, and Home Ec. VI is child care. Family Living, taught in mixed classes, has been added to the curriculum this year. It is offered to senior boys and junior or senior girls who are not taking Home Ec. V.

Miss Harriet J. Wilkinson, department head, says that the purpose of the Home Ec. Department is "to better acquaint the pupil in the areas of making a home."

Also teaching in this department are: Mrs. Martha Welch, Mrs. Flora Faust, and Mrs. Vivian Summeier.

Mr. Carl Smith, Basic Electricity teacher, supplies Jim Stewart with a part he needs for his project.

Ben Davis boys are privileged to take advantage of the fine vocational curriculum offered to them which includes most of the vocations open to people who do not go on to college. Under the direction of Mr. Dwight Cottingham, vocational studies have become highly popular with the boys at B. D. The new building, the excellent equipment, and the skillful direction given by the teachers has drawn many students into the field and helped them along the road toward finding a life's work.

or a way to make a living

One of the most popular classes in the vocational department is Sheet Metals where the boys learn to handle cutting torches and welding rods. (However, you must wear glasses while welding, and that hinders identification.)

"I crown thee, Marjorie Pettitt, queen of the 1959 Junior, Senior Prom," says Richard Wallace, host, as Dave Huston, prince, looks on.

Perhaps the most wonderful night of the year is the night of the prom. The girl in a pretty formal, the guy in his tux; each enjoying the other's appearance and each probably more uncomfortable than the other.

This year's prom at the Indiana Roof was a most memorable occasion. As you entered the ballroom, you were given a small program which had a place for the names of the king, queen, prince, and princess. The ballroom provided an atmosphere of a Spanish town at twilight time, while music for the evening was provided by the Earl Newport Band.

At 10 o'clock the coronation began and the court was crowned. The results of the election were: Don Troutt, king; Marjorie Pettitt, queen; Dave Huston, prince, and Delores Frost, princess. The queen and princess were each given a large bouquet of long-stemmed red roses and each of the attendants to the queen and princess were presented with small bouquets of carnations.

Twelve o'clock certainly came early that evening because the prom was to end at midnight and the band understood the time to be 11 o'clock. However, the band members were informed that they still had one hour of dance music to provide, so they went back to the band stand and played a while longer.

Patsy Long, queen of the 1958 homecoming, rides among her subjects in a white convertible driven by John Pemberton.

Ah! The eve of Homecoming! Can we ever forget it all --- working on floats and band practices till the hours become endless, the team practicing calisthenics, and best of all the pre-game parade!

And speaking of the parade, we also saw the pert Homecoming Queen, Patsy Long, leading the parade with her court: Rhoda McDaniel, senior, Sandy Allen, junior; Sandy Kinney, sophomore, and Sandy Miller, freshman.

On this all-important football night, the Giants met the Sacred Heart Spartans on the gridiron to win their fourth game of the season by a score of 26 to 7.

During half time Patsy was escorted onto the field with her court. Co-captains Randy McPike and Tim Mongan placed the crown on Patsy's head making her the third Homecoming Queen in Ben Davis' history. The band then saluted both schools by playing their school songs at the biggest and best Homecoming ever at Ben Davis.

"May I see your pass?" asks Phyllis Cravens to Dale Henderson as he tends to an errand between classes.

It has often been said that top athletes are seldom top students scholastically. But Duane Wood and Bob Davis disprove this fact, as they pause for a moment outside the door of the Wayne Central Building.

...while we take time for

"At last!" This is perhaps what these students are thinking as they at last reach the front of the lunch line.

A familiar scene in the halls of B. D. is a monitor guarding the halls of Ben Davis at every turn against people who cut class, or just roam the halls to find some mischief. They also serve as the welcoming committee to guests.

The rush to lunch every day is also a part of the routine of all "Ben Davisites!" The new cafeteria has given a new atmosphere to the daily lunchtime. When the cafeteria line winds completely around the lunch room, the moment a student gets his tray he feels he has accomplished a great task.

Students at Ben Davis enjoy many activities. School plays, dances, proms, football, basketball, and baseball games fill the calendar for Ben Davisites this year.

One of the main fads leading the B.D. hit parade during the winter was the donning of senior cords on Fridays. Cartoons, names, and caricatures were painted on the corduroy skirts and trousers. Also on Fridays, the students who had earned letters wore their letter sweaters.

Also Ben Davisites have indulged in the new craze of millions of American teenagers, pizza. Pizza parties have swept the country as the greatest fad. "Giant" fans also enjoy riding leisurely around town and having fun.

Commonly seen on Fridays at Ben Davis are the everpopular senior cords. Displaying their outfits at the entrance of the Wayne-Central Building are Terry Myers, Charles Richwine, and Linda Lewis. Another popular fad at B. D. are the going-steady shirts which Linda and Charles also are wearing.

Mr. Donald Hansell, head of the Dramatic Department, is shown here preparing Sharon Cooper for the recent play, "Ring Around Elizabeth," in which she played the leading role. Also giving assistance to Joyce Cox is Carol Melenchuck (far right).

"Mom, gotta stay after school again tonight," says Elaine Chaille. This is a common scene just outside the Dean of Boys office, where the public phone is located. It is usually kept quite busy after school and sock hops.

...toward greater knowledge

Character, service, scholarship, and leadership are the four qualities that all members of the National Honor Society of B.D.H.S. must excel in before they are eligible for membership in the organization.

Coming together on the second Monday of each month are 50 active and 10 probationary members who are in the upper 15% of their class.

The club was established four years ago for the purpose of encouraging and giving recognition to high scholastic achievement. Each year a one hundred dollar scholarship is given to an outstanding senior.

Various activities during the year such as a banquet, an Honor Hop, and the annual picnic are some of the projects the society participates in.

Sponsoring the group is Miss Olive Carruthers, assisted by Mrs. Helen Poince and Mr. Robert Seaman. Officiating over the group are: Dale Henderson, president; Rhoda McDaniel, vice-president; Jo Ann Wolfe, secretary; and Larry Martin, treasurer.

An initiation takes place in the fall of the year when deserving sophomores are accepted into the organization. They are then allowed to stay if they continue their high standards throughout their high school careers.

The Honor Society does much to instill into the minds of all members of the group the need, in this rapidly changing world of ours, for well-trained and educated leaders of tomorrow.

Members of the National Honor Society are; BOTTOM ROW: Karen Pfenning, Jim Houck, Marilyn Snyder, Judy Tague, Dale Henderson, Rhoda McDaniel, Larry Martin, Jo Ann Wolfe, Sally Simmons, Barbara Barnett, Carolyn Benefiel, and Marian Dierdorf. From baggy britches, patched skirts, big ties, paint splotched sweat shirts, and pig-tails; to dress suits, white shirts and ties, Sunday dresses, high heels, and best manners. Could there be a bigger contrast?

This is the spectacle Ben Davis teachers had the opportunity of witnessing on Hobo Day and Teacher Appreciation Day. Everyone dressed in raggedy clothes and went to school as usual for one day during the first semester. Then in May of the next semester, the students showed their appreciation of their teachers by dressing in their best, giving the teachers corsages, and acting their best.

The Student Council was started in 1953 by Mr. Blanchard Smith and Larry Cexson to enable Ben Davis to stand on an equal footing with other schools and to provide a much-needed go-between for the students and faculty.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Richard Apple, the organization supervises and administers the monitor system; sponsors the Mid-Winter Whirl, Hobo Day, an all school convo, clean-up day, record playing in the morning in the gym, and Homecoming; organizes school elections; purchases Christmas tree in cafeteria; and donates gifts to the school.

It is the duty of the Student Council to co-ordinate the activities, ideas, and ideals, of the student body and faculty into one compact, functioning plan.

Discussing school problems during a Student Council meeting are a few of the members: Kirby Squire, Mary Ann Spahr, Larry Martin, Jim Houck, and Mr. Howard Wood.

....by the rewarding of outstanding journalists

A small group of pupils work long and hard to become a member of a national journalism honorary group, called Quill and Scroll.

This group was established in 1926 for the purpose of acknowledging outstanding high school journalists. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth will make ye free," is the motto of this national organization.

To become an active member, a pupil must have a high scholastic rating, qualities in leadership, and have done outstanding work on the Spotlight Staff, Keyhole Staff, or News Bureau Staff.

The club meets once a month under the direction of its sponsor, Mr. James Ray, to discuss business matters, and special projects in aiding the school.

..as student presses roll on

Putting out a bi-weekly newspaper is no easy job and each of the 12 student editors on the Spotlight will testify to this fact.

Comments such as: "Where's that front page cut? Remember your deadline! This headline won't fit." and "How do I do this, Mr. Ray?" are only a few of the familiar phrases that are heard over and over in the Spotlight room.

Toward the end of the year the paper turned to a weekly publication and was made smaller. But this idea proved unsatisfactory after a six weeks trial period and will return to a bi-weekly publication in the coming school year.

Mr. James Ray, advisor, says that the student publications will move to the grade school building next year where the Spotlight and KEYHOLE will share a double room.

Marilyn Snyder, who was editor of the school paper, and Jim Houck, who was associate editor, proved that their much time and work spent during and after school was worth it when they made the Spotlight a very anxiously awaited paper by all of the students of B. D. In recognition of their work, the school presented both Marilyn and Jim with the Merle Sidner award, which is given each year to the school's most outstanding journalist.

The Editor-in-Chief of the Spotlight and the one who did much to make it the success it was, was Marilyn Snyder.

"It was fun," are the three little words that sum up the feeling of all the weary staff members who have tried to give you the finest Keyhole ever produced in the history of B.D.H.S.

True, at times it seemed as if there would never be a book at all but with the devoted help of eight staff members and one ambitious sponsor we kept the book moving at a fairly good pace.

Cropping pictures, writing copy, selling ads, meeting deadlines, adding eight color pages, mounting class pictures, and the production of a student directory were only a few of the many tasks that served to keep our staff busy from September through August.

So now we give you the 1959 Keyhole. We hope you like it.

"We have to get this yearbook done." This is what Ann Syler, copy editor; and Patty Cottey may have been thinking as they worked on the 1959 yearbook.

Kay Wills, editor; and Sandy Hawkins, senior advisor; discuss their plans on yearbook covers with Mr. Glenn Fisher, sponsor.

1959 Keyhole

Co-operation! This is the one word that must be remembered day in and day out by all staff members on the yearbook staff.

The honor group of the Mask and Gavel Club is the Thespians consisting of 35 members. The purpose of the club is the advancement of dramatic work by the students who are interested in dramatics.

To be in the Thespians a person must first be in the Mask and Gavel and after earning 10 points by various work on stage and backstage, he is eligible to be in the group.

The first vice-president, Dave Oliver, is in charge of all Thespian activities and is also the first vice-president over the N.F.L. and Mask and Gavel.

The officers of the Thespians are: Dave Brady, president, who oversees the entire organization; Dave Oliver, first vice-president; Dale Henderson, second vice-president; Linda Boss, historian; Karen Pfenning, secretary and recording secretary; and Fred Moore, treasurer.

The members of the Mask and Gavel work very hard to be eligible for the Thespian group and Mr. Donald Hansell, the sponsor, seems to always come up with a top organization.

"Miss Elizabeth I'm gonna have to quit" says Jackie Linn (far right) to Sherran Cooper (center) as she answers: "Vita, you can't quit. You just quit yesterday!" Vonya Cantwell, Janet Hubble, and Linda Tomlin look on.

"Lights, Curtains, Action" is the cue given to the actors on the stage as they prepare to present a play to the student body. This is true with the Mask and Gavel Club of B. D. H. S.

At the present the Mask and Gavel has 62 members who try to develop greater interest and ability in speech skills.

The members of Mask and Gavel are kept busy preparing for two 3-act plays and numerous 1-act plays. And they're rewarded for their work by having a formal dance for members and guests.

Points may be earned by not only acting in the plays, but also by doing that necessary job -- backstage help. When a member's points add up to 10, you are eligible to be in the honor group, Thespians.

The Mask and Gavel Club meets the first Wednesday of every month unless a special meeting is necessary.

This year is the 20th anniversary year for our Mask and Gavel Club started by Elsie Ball in 1938.

The purpose of the Mask and Gavel is to entertain and provide an interest in dramatics to the student body. It will continue to do so under the direction of Mr. Donald Hansell.

There are thirty-nine members in the A Cappella Choir at Ben Davis, who participate in many activities such as: contests, concerts, tours, and recordings during the year. The members give up a great deal of their time to practice hours outside of school for appearances; but they also have fun and receive satisfaction and honor from being a member of the choir.

During the year the choir made approximately twenty appearances, and the greatest honor that the choir received was the comments received during their appearance at Terre Haute.

The choir was started by Mr. Omar Rybolt, and since has brought many honors to the school. To become a member of the choir, a person must have average grades, be willing to devote extra time, have a basic idea of good tone production, have genuine interest in music, show interest in personal vocal progress, and maintain a good attendance at school and rehearsals.

Another group which has brought honor to Ben Davis is the Madrigal singers, a select group from the A Cappella Choir.

At the end of the year on Honor Day, an award is given to the most outstanding member of the choir. The award this year was presented to Sharon Cooper by the choir director, Mr. William Roderick.

This is scene from the Ben Davis operetta this year entitled "Lowland Sea." It was presented by the Madrigal singers and featured Janet Warren and Ronnie Cunningham.

Furnishing programs for various organizations in Wayne Township, a spring tour to Eminence H. S. and Martinsville H. S., and an appearance at the Indiana School Music Association Contest winning a Division II rating are just some of the different activities the Ben Davis High School Orchestra participated in this year.

The Orchestra consists of 24 members under the direction of Mr. Robert Scott. From the Orchestra, four students are selected for a string quartet. This group has proved to be quite a success because they are always in constant demand for banquet music and for programs throughout Marion County.

... by the various display

"Music is the universal language." And the 151 members of the "Ben Davis High School Marching Giants" under Mr. Ralph Chandler, have proved this statement to be true.

The band strives for top musicians, showmanship, and good public relations for Ben Davis as they carry the name of the school throughout the state.

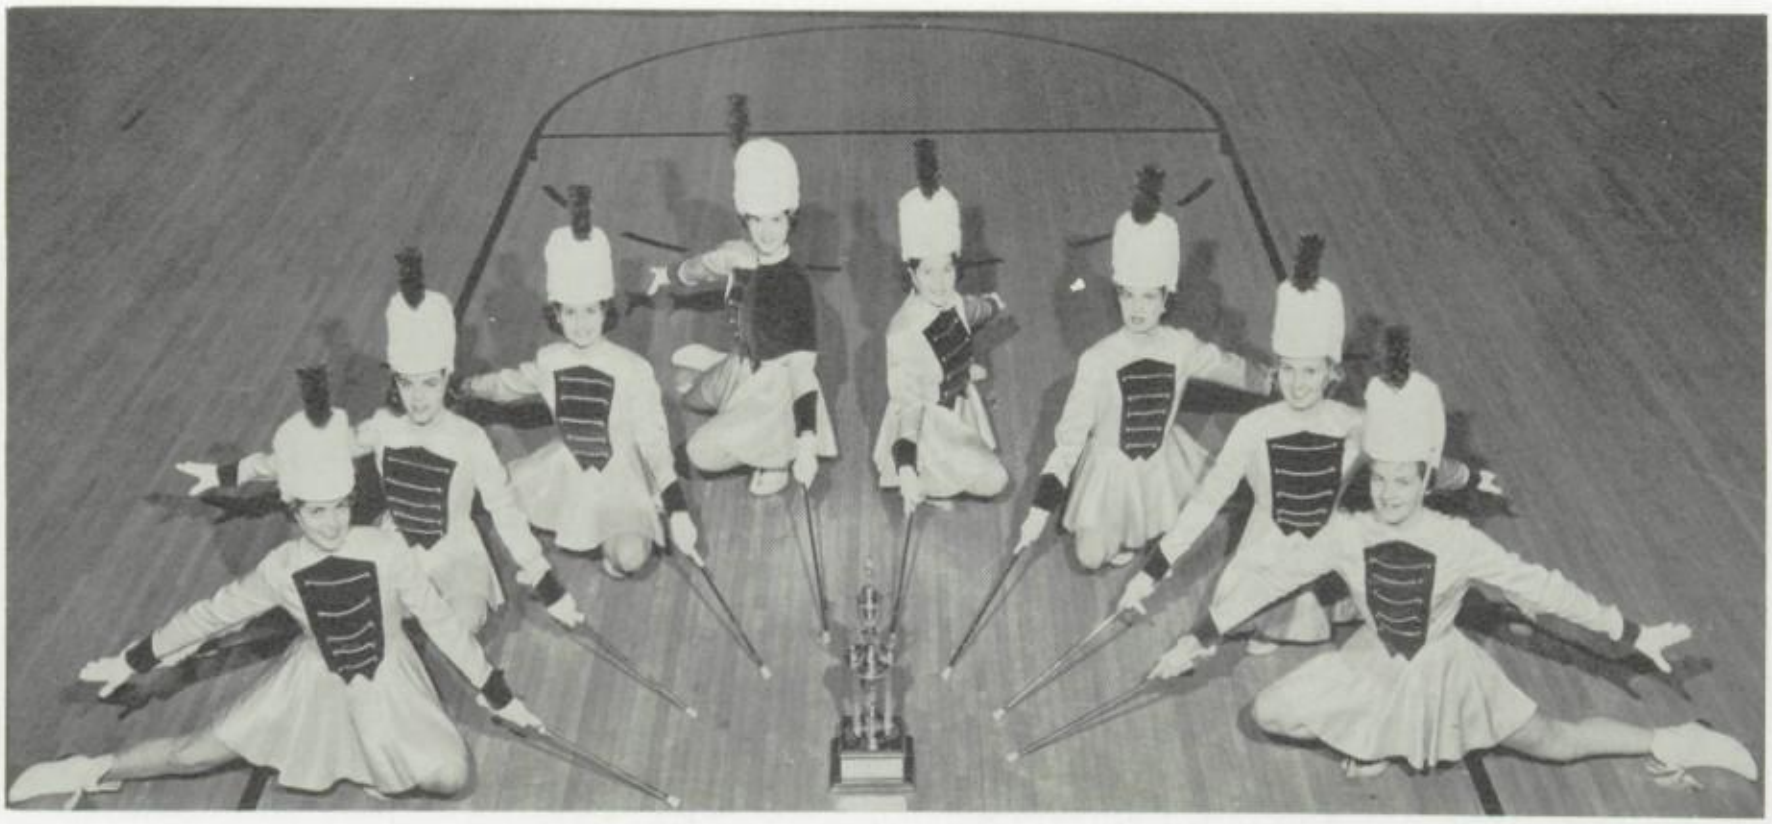
One of the outstanding activities in the band's busy year was the 1959 Spring Festival, which was an all music department production. This year the group played to a standing room only public audience.

They also won 3rd prize out of 92 bands at the Indiana State Fair, 1st prize at the Riverview Park Tournament of Music in Chicago, and 1st prize at the Ellettsville Fair.

Another group that brightened the life of many B. D. students is the Dance Band under the direction of Mr. Max Smith, associate band director.

The Dance Band is a small select group of members which are chosen from the Concert Band by tryout only.

A few of the activities that filled the schedule of the organization this year were performances at the Manual Military Ball, DePauw University Sorority dance, alumni dance at Avon, spring tour to Kirklin and Flora High School, and a variety show at Ellettsvill .



MAJORETTES are: Judy Townsend, Marilyn Snyder, Linda Boss, Marjorie Pettitt, Elaine Chaille, Karen Royer, Judy Sater, and Pam Estle.

Marjorie Pettitt, who has led the "Marching Giants" to many victories, proudly admires the trophy that the band won in the State Fair competition this year.

"One, two, left, right, left, halt!" And 8 majorettes, 21 Flag Corps girls and 14 Bell Aires halt to the blow of the whistle from the head majorette, Marjorie Pettitt.

Membership of the auxiliary group is based on tryouts, scholarship, appearance, and a natural sense of rhythm. No past experience is required.

The auxiliary group, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Chandler, participates in all marching activities with the band, plus the Music Department's Spring Festival and the most important activity, the annual Chicago trip to the River View Park Festival of Music.

During the school year all groups are assigned to one period of band for rehearsal time. During the summer they practice at Stout Field and during August, four nights per week.

The entire Majorette Corps is coached by Pat Hooker, director of the famous "Dixie Darlings" at a summer camp that the corps attends each year.

During the 1958-'59 season our band has welcomed such celebrities as Lawrence Welk and his orchestra and Ephrem Zimbilus Jr. from "77 Sunset Strip," a popular TV program.

...to highlight the gala festivities

"Salvete" is the greeting you would receive from any Latin student at Ben Davis High School. From the enrollment of 357 Latin students, it is easy to see that Latin is a favorite subject at Ben Davis.

Mrs. Helen Wampler, head of the Latin club, says that the purpose of Latin is to teach us more about Roman life customs.

Several events that have taken place this year are: the yearly Christmas party, which is the Roman Saturnalia, a chariot which was the Latin Club's entry in the homecoming, and the annual JCL convention, which took place at Indiana University this year.

The Latin club changed its initiation procedure from previous years. In the years before, Latin students would travel through the underground to become regular members, but this year the initiation was formal. If a Latin student isn't initiated, he is to be sold as a slave at the slave market. This year the slave sale proved to be so interesting that it was given 30 minutes on television.

The JCL club is a national organization set up for any Latin student who wishes to be a member. This year many honors were received at the JCL convention. Larry Henderson was elected as 1959-'60 president for state JCL, and nominated for the office of national treasurer. Mrs. Harold Shaffer was voted the prettiest mother, and Ben Davis had the largest student attendance at the convention.

Mrs. Helen Mercer is head of the Latin Department, and teaches third and fourth year Latin. She has the help of Mrs. Helen Wampler, who teaches first year Latin.

Enjoying ancient customs at the Roman Banquet are Mary Ann Spahr, Jo Ann Green, Walter Conroy, and Janet Warren.

Mr. Jose Davila sponsors the El Revezo Club which meets on the third Wednesday of every month for the purpose of helping the students gain a clearer understanding of the Spanish people and their ways, and create interest in the Spanish language.

The only requirement needed to become a member of the group is to be enrolled in a Spanish class.

Approximately 20 students are enrolled in the Spanish club and they elected their officers as: Jeanne Kolbe, president; David Meo, vice-president; and Jo Sheffer, secretary.

Many activities fill the calendar of the club. A few of these were the celebration of a Mexican style Christmas, a Spring Fiesta with Pike Township and foreign guests, and a picnic at Brown County at the end of the year.

The group also took part in the homecoming parade; the fall festival, and made valentines for the Lynhurst Nursing Home, which were their projects for the school years of '58 and '59.

...in spreading good cheer

Sitting happily, Marcia Burnell remembers her dream-like coronation at the Sunshine Dance.

"To promote sunshine, charity, and good will," is the purpose of the Sunshine Society at Ben Davis. The organization was established about 25 years ago by Mrs. William Steindorf, and the main purpose of the club is to contribute a substantial amount to the Riley Fund of the Riley Children's Hospital.

Miss Dorothy Hostetler, who is in her first year as head sponsor of the group, makes sure that there is a planned program for the girls at every meeting. Each program includes such activities as: Christmas carolling at Tall Cedars Nursing Home, a Mother's Tea and style show, and the annual spring dance in the cafeteria.

Other projects of the club which help spread cheer is the giving of food and clothing to a needy family at Thanksgiving, visiting nursing homes, and participating in a show at the PTA's Fall Festival each year.

and Christian fellowship

One of the main organizations for the boys at Ben Davis High School is the Hi-Y Club, sponsored by Mr. Tim Schmidt.

This club was adopted in 1889 by Davis F. Shirk with the help of the Y.M.C.A. The group was begun because a group of boys in Chapman, Kansas, wanted to study the bible in their free time.

Officers of the Hi-Y are Randy McPike, president; Dale Henderson, vice-president; Bill Bettag, secretary; Tim Mongan, treasurer, and Danny Turpin, chaplain.

The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school, home, and community, high standards of Christian character.

During the 1958-'59 school year, the B.D.H.S. Hi-Y Club has been engaged in the project of providing the new sidewalk at the Northeast corner of the Senior Building, and purchasing two record players for Audio-Visual use in the school.

The Hi-Y activities during the year have consisted of working at the coke concession during the basketball games, having a Christmas party, and participating in the 1958-'59 Model United Nations.

Members of the Youth For Christ quiz team for Ben Davis are: Kay Wills, Beth McDaniel, and Sherry Nance who are preparing for a quiz.

Youth for Christ Bible Club has been in existence at Ben Davis High School for three years and was started by approximately four students and Rev. Bill Zeoli, director of Greater Indianapolis Youth for Christ. The club has now grown to approximately sixty-five members.

Membership is obtained only by regular attendance at meetings the first and third Tuesday of every month during the school year.

The goal of the club is to give Christian young people in schools throughout the world fellowship with one another and to bring other young people into the group. These young people feel that they have found a real and living purpose in life. They constantly strive to give other students the best kind of impression of the Christian young person, and let them see that religion is a thing as important in the life of a high school person today as any other time in the history of our world.

The YFC at Ben Davis has been extremely active this year by taking an active part in the quiz team, consisting of six students who volunteer to study at least one hour per day on the book of Luke. The team placed third among approximately thirty other Indianapolis and surrounding high schools. A pizza party was another highlight of this year's activities, and the teenage film, "Going Steady," was shown to a group of over 190 students. The star of this film, Ben Sprunger, also spoke at a regular club meeting.

and better developed experience in speaking

The National Forensics League composed of 14 members is one of the two branches of the Mask and Gavel Organization. This group does a fine job of participating in district and National Forensics League contests, Indiana High School Forensic Association contests and student congresses. This involves: debate, dramatic, oratorical and humorous interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, discussion, radio, poetry, and original oratory.

The N.F.L. attends 10-12 contests over the state per year where our students participate against other schools and students in the fields mentioned above.

Each spring the Thespians and N. F. L. have an awards banquet to install new officers and to award seniors recognition for outstanding work in their respective areas.

The officers of the N.F.L. is a branch of the Thespians. The 2nd vice-president of the Thespians is Dale Henderson, who is in charge of the N. F. L. activities.

The school is very proud of the N.F.L. which does an excellent job in representing our school under the direction of Mr. Donald Hansell.

Karen Pfenning smiles happily as she receives her trophy for placing first in the state in poetry.

Booster Clubbers are sporting their tourney togs proudly. White gloves, white blouses, and white derby hats with purple stars are the Ben Davis outfits.

...with the enthusiasm of both girls

Miss Marilyn Benson, the Booster Club sponsor, and Steve Jones, Booster Club president in 1958, cheerfully pose while Patsy Long, Homecoming queen, displays the trophy that the Booster Club won for having the best float in the parade.

"Victory, victory is our cry." This is the familiar cry of our many booster members.

This year Ben Davis produced a fine spirited booster club, and this was accomplished under the leadership of Steve Coppack, president; Shirley Inman, vice-president; Donna Buzzaird, secretary, and Arleene Taylor, treasurer.

The purpose of our booster club is to stimulate and promote school spirit, to teach sportsmanship, and to support the team at all games.

This year some of the activities the Booster Club participated in were: pep sessions, cheer section at the county and sectional tourneys, giving of a sportsmanship trophy in football and basketball, providing transportation for away games, and selling school spirit items.

We had many projects this year, also, oranges for the team at games, football sports' award, Big Ben, and a bulletin board for the Industrial Arts Building.

The club was also very proud to receive the first homecoming float trophy and check for the best decorated float in the homecoming parade.

And we cannot forget one of the most essential assets of a booster club, which is cheerleaders. Ben Davis has proved to have a fine group of varsity, reserve, and freshman cheerleaders, trained by Miss Marilyn Benson, who also is the sponsor of the Booster Club.

"Ben Davis Giants can't be beat, 6200 West Morris Street." This is the yell that our Big Ben's Boys became well-known for during the 1959 sectionals. Here leading the boys' cheer section in a cheer are Don Troutt and Dan Laser.

White engineering caps, white sweat shirts, and kerchiefs are the attire of Big Ben's Boys. This boys booster section consists of 182 loyal students of Ben Davis High School whose purpose is to promote good sportsmanship and school spirit.

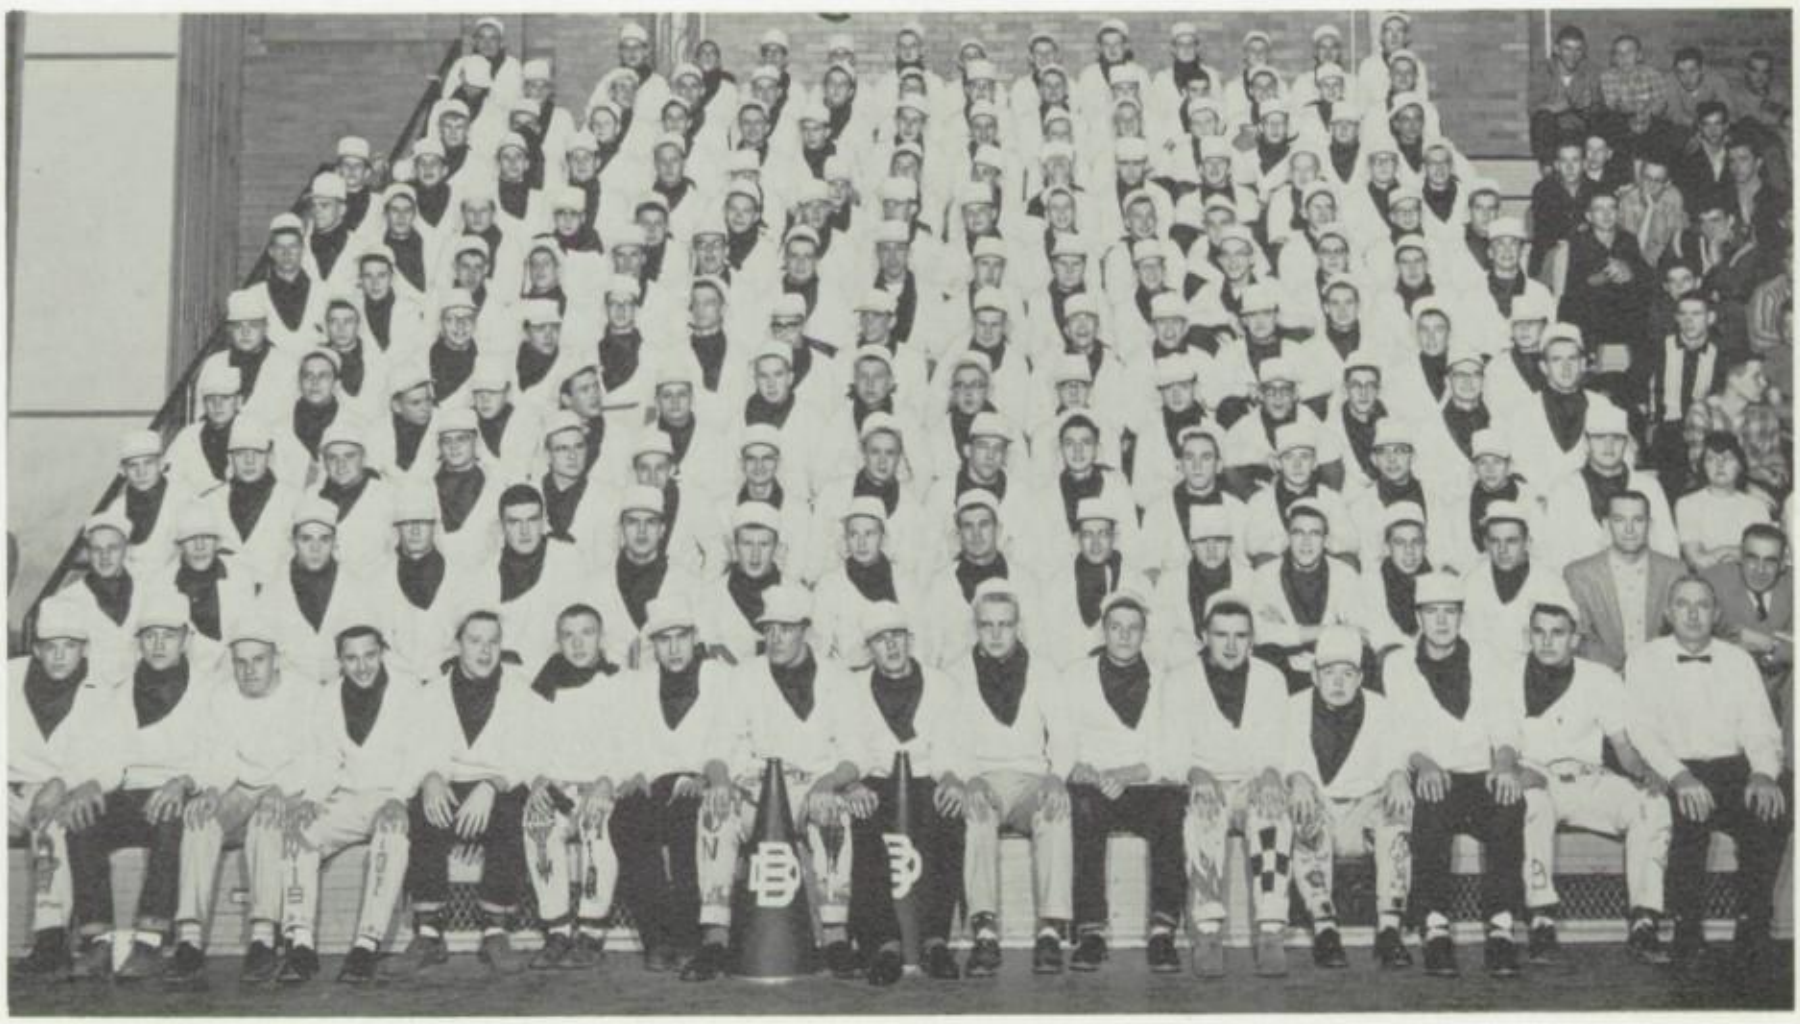
The only requirements that a member must meet to belong to Big Ben's Boys are: he keep his attire clean and neat, be on his good conduct at all games, and he must sit in his assigned seat.

The boys in the block sit according to their class level: First rows, Seniors; Second, Juniors; Third, Sophomores, and the last rows are Freshmen. This group of boys is sponsored by Mr. Wendell Hine and he is assisted by Mr. Kenneth Cox.

This group which was just organized during the 1958 basketball season has been a success. Much anxiety was shown in the beginning to see just what results Big Ben's Boys would bring, especially at the sectionals. Everyone seemed to agree that it was a very successful boost to our school spirit.

The boys selected Dan Laser, Steve Weaver, and Don Troutt as their cheer captains.

and boys in building school spirit



Carol Mitchell and Tim Mongan reigned as queen and king of the 1959 Letterman's Dance held in the Ben Davis High School cafeteria. Tim is also president of the Letterman's Club and is the state champion in wrestling in the 175 pound weight class.

After an athlete has participated in enough athletic contests in a given sport to earn a thousand points, he is awarded a major letter which makes him eligible to be a member of the Ben Davis High School Letterman's Club.

The group was organized in 1957 by Mr. Howard Williams, athletic coach at Ben Davis, for the purpose of promoting good sportsmanship and better co-operation among the athletes of Ben Davis with their fellow team mates and with members of opposing teams at all times.

At present the club has an enrollment of 72 members, who meet in the high school gym every two months. The group also sponsors many helpful projects during the year such as holding ropes during home basketball games to keep people under control and off the gym floor, taking charge of concession stands at home football games, and as a highlight of the year, the group sponsors an annual dance in the cafeteria.

The Letterman's Club has done a fine job of helping the school in maintaining a better athletic program at Ben Davis under the leadership of Tim Mongan, president; Tom Schabel, vice-president; Larry Elliot, secretary, Randy McPike, treasurer, and Mr. John Masariu and Mr. Howard Williams, sponsors of the organization.

and top Keglers

Will it be a strike? This could be quite possible because Peg Savage and Steve Weaver are the top two bowlers in the Ben Davis Bowling Club.

One of the largest clubs in Ben Davis is the Bowling Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Oran Dabney. Approximately 90 students are enrolled as keglers in the group and they meet every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at Lynhurst bowl to play on a team of four bowlers. Averages are kept, and at the end of the year the boy and girl who have the highest average for the year are awarded at the annual Bowling Club banquet.

The club is sanctioned by the Indianapolis Junior Bowling Congress, and the members enter tournaments during Christmas and spring vacations.

The only qualification to become a member of the Bowling Club is to show an interest in bowling and attend most meetings. There are no dues, but each member must pay his own fee at the bowling alley.

"The blue '58 Ford has its lights left on! booms a voice from an upstairs window early in the morning of a day of school. The voice belongs to Mr. Woodrow Baker as he speaks into an amplifier megaphone. This is part of his attempt to see to it that our big driver population abides by the Driver Club's rules.

The Driver Club is one of the largest at Ben Davis. Membership into the organization is attained by driving a car to school, and it is retained as long as the driver does not lose his privilege of driving to school.

The organization was started three years ago by Mr. Baker, and has had as its purpose the developing of safe, courteous drivers for our crowded highways. Twice a year the State Police come to the school to "safety-check" all cars to be sure that the cars will be mechanically safe to drive. This always causes some excitement, consternation, and a few "red faces."

and the fine points of an old game.

Watching Clarence Coyle and Addison Humphrey test their skill at chess are Shirley Owens, Jack Williams and Curtis Criss.

"Checkmate!" "It's your move!" You may occasionally hear these phrases on either the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month from 5 p.m. or the third Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. If you do happen to hear them, you will know that the Chess Club of Ben Davis High is having a club meeting.

The Chess Club of B.D. has 30 members sponsored by Mr. William Girton, and Mr. John Walton. This year's officers are: Clarence Coyle, president; Addison Humphrey, vice-president, and Shirley Owens, secretary.

The purpose of the club is to teach students the art of playing chess and to further the interest of students in a good game.

The qualifications needed to join the club are a desire to play or learn to play chess and attendance at meetings.

Some of the club's projects are: entertainment of its members, contest events, and school and county events. The club placed third in competition this year while Clarence Coyle came in first in the county tournament. Curtis Criss received the school's award for winning the most games and being the most ambitious player on the team.

The 1959-1960 season of the club will be sponsored by Mr. Jose Davilla.

The organization of Mu Alpha Theta at Ben Davis High School is a national honorary society that has just entered its first year at our school. Math students who seriously work in the subject and maintain a B average in their math class are eligible for membership.

All students who are juniors or seniors and wish to become a member of the club must then be voted into the society by the active members. At present there are 27 students enrolled in Mu Alpha Theta.

The initiation is a candlelight ceremony and is a reward to the students who have put forth a sincere effort in the study of mathematics. It is hoped that the larger enrollment in math courses should help the organization toward growing in the years to come.

Officers of Mu Alpha Theta are: Miss Nina Martin, sponsor; Nonie Short, president; Judy Tague, vice-president; and Sally Simmons, secretary-treasurer.

a broader interest in the field of mathematics

Jack Williams, Trialge member, won the Herff-Jones Award this year for outstanding work in mathematics.

Math and science are two subjects that world leaders are stressing more and more each year. The courses are needed to bring forth capable leaders for tomorrow. For this purpose, the Trialge Club of B.D.H.S. has been established to create a greater interest in math and give those who are interested in math and science at the present an opportunity to meet together and exchange their thoughts and ideas in the mathematics field of our learning.

The only requirement needed to become a member of the Trialge Club is to have completed a minor in mathematics.

The group has two main projects each year and that is to give awards to students who have done outstanding work in the math department and to decorate a Christmas tree in the cafeteria each year.

Officiating over the 40 members in the club at present are: Miss Nina Martin, sponsor; David Oliver, president; Sally Simmons, vice-president; Clarence Coyle, secretary, and Larry Hylton, treasurer.

Being an office receptionist in the office at Ben Davis certainly isn't an easy job. Answering the telephones, taking dictation, typing, running errands, operating the PBX board, and filing are only a few of the jobs an office girl must perform for one period each day.

Junior and senior girls with successfully completed commerce courses get preparation for future secretarial careers as they handle many tasks that might otherwise prove a burden to Mrs. Alice Harker who is the school secretary and office supervisor.

In order to qualify as an office assistant, each girl must have average grades, a pleasant personality, and initiative.

Nineteen girls served on the staff this year, and according to Mrs. Harker, "The girls have proved to be very satisfactory and can be recommended for employment after graduating."

The staff was started to assist the office personnel and to give the girls office experience.

"I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater Loyalty, my Hands to larger service, and my Health to better living--for my club, my community, and my country!" This is the motto and the purpose of 4-H clubbers throughout the nation.

4-H helps our youth in their relationship with other people, and most of all it gives them a wider interest in life and its everyday events.

To be eligible for membership in 4-H, one must be between the ages of 10 and 20, must attend as many meetings as possible, and complete his projects and exhibits; otherwise, he will not be able to enter the following year.

Awards may be given in various fields, and can be received for exhibiting, judging, and demonstrating.

4-H has many activities in which everyone can take part, and anyone is eligible to demonstrate his or her project at the Purdue Extension Building, or take part in judging. Any member over 14 can be a Junior Leader, and every summer those who wish may go to 4-H Camp at Shakamak State Park.

Boys and girls in 4-H work should have the consent and support of their parents. The advice, counsel, and the whole-hearted co-operation of parents with 4-H leaders are essential items in the success of the 4-H program which is sponsored at Ben Davis by Mr. Dwight Cottingham and Mrs. Vivian Summier.

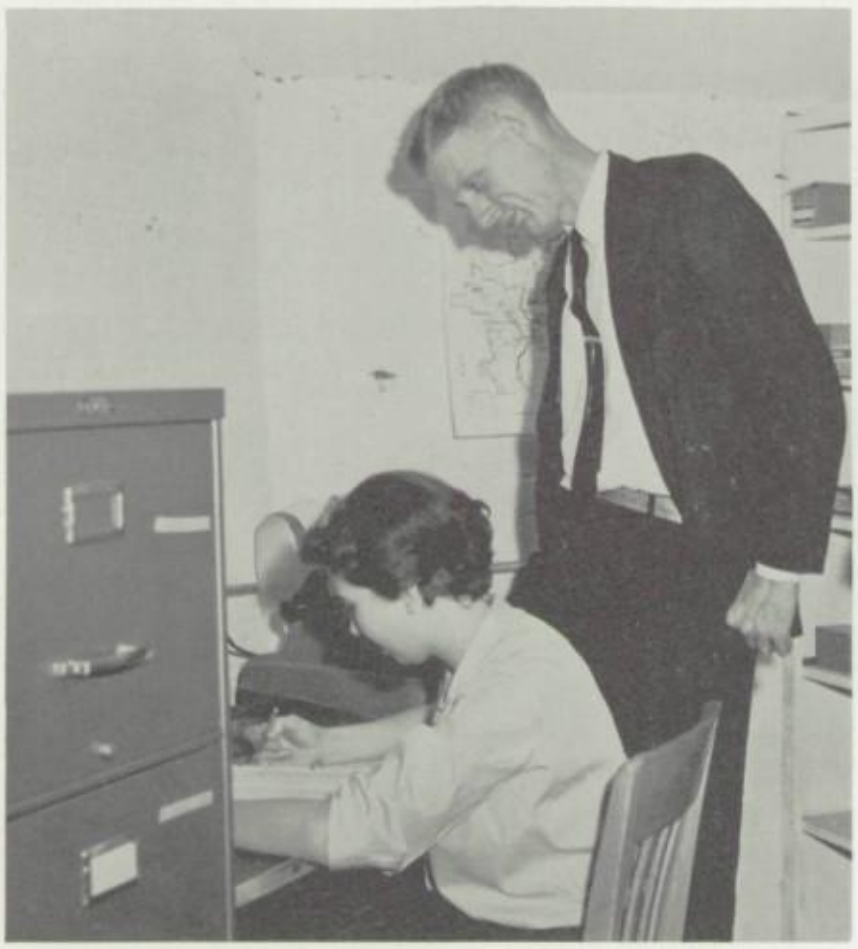
...by student service to school

Linda Shelton types up a test as Mrs. Campbell, head of the English Department looks on.

When the head of each department find that they are going to be covered up with secretarial work they now can get that much needed help. All that they need to do is to send an S.O.S. to Mrs. Jessie Kirk and her Department Secretaries.

Mrs. Kirk, head of the Commerce Department, assigns a student who is in business training to each department to take care of such secretarial duties as answering correspondence, typing tests, or taking dictation.

This helpful arrangement does more than just take away some of the time-consuming duties for the teacher, it also gives the student secretaries practical experience which will be invaluable when they step out into the business world. Thus, this fine group is further proof that we can often benefit ourselves by giving service to others. Ben Davis is proud of this excellent service organization that is doing so much to make the job of the department heads a little easier.



Busily doing bookkeeping and accounting for the Book Den is Peggy Wilkes assisted by the head of the Book Den, Mr. Philip Trees.

In the basement of the Senior Building is a small room well-known as the Book Den. Though it is a small room, it is most significant in the lives of each student at Ben Davis. Everything is paid for through the new 'fee system' at the Book Den.

Aiding in selling school supplies, typing, and accounting are only a few of the duties of the Book Den assistants. These assistants must possess such qualities as integrity, grades, ability to meet the public, and neatness in appearance. There are a total of 28 assistants; four or five working each period.

At the present, the Book Den is under the management of Mr. Philip Trees assisted by Mr. Jerry Brown. Mr. Trees, who previously taught with his wife in the Pacific, has been manager since January of this year.

There are many things to be said about the Book Den, but one thing is remembered above any words spoken. 'Can anyone forget the endless waiting line at the beginning of the year or the unforgettable experience of reaching the front of the line only to have the bell ring?'

Did you ever pick out a person, perhaps on a bus or in the classroom and wonder just why such an expression was on his face? Here are a few examples of facial expressions that enter the door of the clinic.

1. Confused -- a boy or girl who comes staggering in caused from dizziness.
2. Pallid -- a boy who has a tiny cut, but bleeding profusely.
3. Embarrassed -- a boy who enters wearing a coat wrapped around his waist and in need of clothing repair.
4. Frightened -- a girl who enters not able to talk due to a dislocated jaw.
5. Nervous -- a girl crying, who is seeking a place to hide.
6. Troubled -- a boy or girl seeking advice.
7. Happy -- a clinic assistant rushes in ready for work, says, "See my ring, we are going steady."

The most important duties of the 14 clinic assistants under the direction of Mrs. Ursal Sommers are:

1. Admit student patients to clinic.
2. Give minor first aid.
3. Assist with screening procedures such as vision tests and tuberculin testing.
4. Refer serious illness and accidents to the Deans, when the nurse is working in other buildings or making home visitations.
5. Make beds, keep clinic tidy and first aid supplies in order.

Books, books everywhere! That's a perfect description of our Ben Davis High School Library headed by Mrs. Louise Williams, Miss Nell Cuff, and Mrs. Roberta Harmon. Aside from these three adult librarians, the library has eighteen senior student and 23 page student librarians.

The function of a library in a school is to locate material for term papers, book reports, and to store such material in a convenient and easy locale for its proper use.

Classes are scheduled into the library during the semester for instruction in the use of material available for each particular subject.

The Ben Davis Library has, at the latest count, some 8,000 volumes housed in two rooms; subscriptions to around 100 magazines; and 32 drawers of pamphlet material including occupational material, biographical, and general.

This is the first year for a course in Library Science available to freshmen only. One full year is essential for one credit. The first semester consists of lessons and problems and the second semester is composed of one period a day of practical work.

When a boy enters into athletics at Ben Davis High, he becomes eligible to win many awards, to gain recognition, and to have the privilege of representing our school in competition with other schools throughout the state. The highest award that any athlete can win is the Top Athlete Award, which is intended to give boys entering school athletics a goal to achieve, that, though demanding and difficult, is highly worthwhile.

The award is based on these qualifications which the coaches and faculty believe are good criteria for selection of such an athlete. First, the boy must participate in two or more sports. Second, he must carry a good scholastic average and display good citizenship and conduct around school. Third, he must show an attitude of good sportsmanship and cooperation in all practices and games.

This year's winner of the Top Athlete Award is Larry Elliott, who is shown here receiving the medal from Athletic Director Howard Williams. Larry was a hurdler in track and a guard on the basketball team. His fine attitude and splendid play made him a favorite of fans and teammates alike.

...to win acclaim for Sportsmanship

Each year the Ben Davis High School Booster Club presents an award to the two most outstanding senior athletes who participate in either of the two major sports, basketball or baseball.

These special awards given are based on athletic skill, ability, sportsmanship, and coaching ability.

This year the awards were presented on June 1, Honor Day, by Steve Coppack, president of the Booster Club. The recipient of the award for the most outstanding netman was Richard Russell, who has been playing for the school all of his four years of high school.

The award to the most outstanding man on the gridiron went to Randy McPike. Randy has equalled Richard Russell in that he also has been playing sports all of his high school career.

These special awards were first given in 1954. Mrs. Dunlap, who was at that time sponsor of the Booster Club, started the tradition.

...in blocking and tackling

The 1958 version of our Giants' Football team opened with Head Coach, John Masariu and his assistant coaches, Mr. Trent Gipson and Woody Baker, quite concerned with the problem of winning games with a team that was new and inexperienced. Beginning on August 15th, the boys and coaches worked hard at their conditioning, fundamentals, and plays; then, in September they got the season underway at Southport where they suffered a heartbreaking defeat - 13 to 12.

Then the spirit and determination of this fine team began to pay off as they cut down Warren Central, Carmel, North Central, and Sacred Heart in quick succession. After consecutive defeats by Manual and Washington, we defeated Decatur Central which gained us a tie for the County Championship playoff. However, we lost the toss of the coin, and Southport got to play for the Championship.

Our last game was with Lebanon and we won easily, which gave us a record of 9 wins and 3 losses.

Sparked by the signal calling of our fine Senior Quarterback, Randy McPike, and inspired by the tough defense led by Senior Lineman, Tim Mongan, the well-coached Giants gave our school a team that makes us happy to shout -- "We're from Ben Davis, there's nobody prouder!"

Halfback Eddie Burrous attempts to elude a Washington tackler as he skirts the right end in the Washington homecoming game.

About 80 Freshman boys reported to Coach Evan Fine and his assistant Joe Preda, hoping to make the Frosh Football team. It was hot and dusty on the practice field and many fell by the wayside, however, 33 stalwarts stuck it out and earned their numerals.

Coach Fine, commenting on this team's 3 won, 3 lost, 1 tie record, says, "This bunch of boys had a long way to go, but they worked hard and they went a long way, showing promise of developing into fine Varsity athletes." Continuing, he says, "Best of all this group has something all coaches hope for but seldom find, that is, a high scholastic average for the entire squad. Football takes both brains and brawn, and the coach is indeed fortunate when he doesn't have to worry about his athletes being declared ineligible because they don't make their grades.

Winning from Eastwood, Warren Central, and Sacred Heart, and losing to Southport, Washington, and Westlane, their final game with Speedway ended in a tie.

...over hills and through the fields

Allester Dowdell is near exhaustion as he reaches for his warm-up suit after a Cross-Country race at Ben Davis.

Track! Track! This cry, which all trackmen know means a runner wants to pass, could be heard early in September as Coach Wendy Hine's Cross-Country team prepared to defend the County crown they had worn for the last two years. Cross-Country, which is a grueling two-mile race across the countryside, demands the utmost in stamina and endurance. Because this year's squad was young and inexperienced, they had to work extremely hard, and Coach Hine says that he was pleased with their spirit and cooperation. However, the thin-clads had to settle for a record of 6 wins and 2 losses, and third in the County Meet.

Losing only one Senior, Richard Russell, by graduation, Coach Hine says that if the team improves as much next year as they have this year that they figure to be back in there fighting for the County Championship.

The 1959 Wrestling team, blessed with 10 returning lettermen from the 1958 Sectional Champs, enjoyed a fine season. Ably coached by Mr. Joe Preda, who is in his fourth year as Head Coach, the 'grunt 'n groaners' pinned eleven opponents while losing to only three. Assistant Coach Jerry Brown helped in many ways, and was especially handy at pulling on Mr. Preda's coat-tails in exciting matches.

Beginning with a win over Franklin Township, the Preda-men lost by one point to State Champ, Shortridge, then racked up wins over Bloomington and Lawrence Central before being tagged by Southport. Five other foes fell before the grapplers lost to Washington for the last loss of the season.

This year, Tim Mongan won the State Championship in the 175 pound class, and Dave Huston was runner-up in the 105 pound division. The team finished fifth in the State, and they won the Marion County Crown to make this another great year for our Giant wrestlers.

...by fighting for rebounds

Bill Susemichel (52) watches as Dick Russell (22) tosses a free throw while Bill Rogers (43) prepares to fight for the rebound.

Rebounds! Rebounds! Rebounds! Ben Davis 944 for the year--the opponents, 793. Coach Marion Fine contends that the rebound chart tells the story of the game, and no one can deny that this year's aggregation of our hardwood Giants upheld his theory in a convincing manner. Our gaudy record of 17 wins and 6 losses came about because the boys insisted on giving the opponents only one shot and persisted in getting as many shots as it took to get the ball in the basket for us.

Beginning with wins over Decatur Central and Warren Central before being tripped up by Lebanon, the Giants went into the County Tournament as the defending champions with a 7 won, 4 lost record. They had a narrow squeak with North Central but won 59 to 56. Then came the heartbreaker! Southport beat us 61 to 60 and went on to win the tournament. One week later we played again and the Finemen got even 60 to 58. Starting with this victory, Coach Fine's boys ran a string of 9 straight, including wins over Warren Central and Sececina in the Sectional before bowing to Tech in the semi-final round 68 to 64.

Ben Davis is proud of their Giants and the peppery little coach who has put them where they are.

When the 1958 baseball season arrived, Coach Trent Gipson was pleased to welcome back 11 boys who had won varsity awards on the County Championship team of 1957. Coach Gipson didn't let up though, and put the boys "through their paces" just as if they were a bunch of green and inexperienced youngsters. The boys went on developing their talents and became too tough for about anyone to handle.

Losing only to Decatur Central, Broad Rippke, and Washington, the diamond-men romped over 13 opponents with comparative ease, climaxing the fine season by adding the Marion County Championship trophy to our trophy case for the second straight year.

Always giving his best is the trademark of a top athlete, and all Giant baseball fans can be proud of this classy outfit fielded by hard-working Coach Gipson and his able assistant, John Masariu.

...and find that fighting spirit

Baseball 1959! What's in store for the Giants this year? Can they continue to dominate the County baseball picture, or will they have to take a back seat this year after holding the crown for two years? How can we remain on top with only 4 returning lettermen and a shortened practice period hampering the team's efforts to get ready? These questions and many more were in Coach Trent Gipson's mind as the team ran through their drills in the gym while the ball diamond was being tiled and rebuilt.

One answer would be to work hard. Another would be the breaks.

So the team went at it, and dipping into the Freshman ranks, they came up with some youngsters who were full of fight and determination though lacking in experience and "know-how." Always a hard driver, Coach Gipson kept the team hustling through the disheartening series of defeats that saw them lose nine of their first ten games.

Then came the "breaks." The team began to "jell" just at the right time, and like the Yankees, when the chips were down in the County Tourney they beat Speedway 2-1, Decatur Central 5-0, and Pike Township 9-1 to remain County Champs for the third year in a row. Many Ben Davis rooters believe that this squad gave our school the best "come-back" effort of the 1958-'59 sports season.

...in building for the future

The 1959 Track season started with new Head Coach, Wendy Hine and his assistant, Mr. John Bradley (also in his first year); being faced with the problem of building a new team since many letter winners were no longer around to help. In addition to being young, the thin-clads had as tough a schedule as any team in the State. In view of this it is no surprise to find that their record was 3 wins and 9 losses.

All was not gloomy in the track picture however, because there were some outstanding performers and performances. Dave Huston, diminutive distance man, was fourth in the Class A mile at the Muncie Relays, and he took second in the Sectional. Joe Doane, a speedy hurdler, broke the school record of 7.4 seconds when he ran the 60 yard low hurdles in 7.3 seconds. Joe Thompson set a new Freshman record when he cleared 10 feet 6 inches in the pole vault.

The Reserves had a record of 2 wins and 2 losses to break even for the year, while the Freshman team, under the tutelage of Coach James Hobson, had a fine season of 4 and 1, finishing second in the County.

Coach Hine says that the team had good hustle and is coming along nicely--that with most of the boys back we could have a better year next year.

The strain of a tough race shows on Joe Doane's face as he breasts the tape and wins the relay event against Manual.

...by developing top-notch golfers

Early in the Spring, most young men's fancy 'lightly turns to thoughts of love', but some boys begin to think of booming drives, sand traps, "birdies," and bunkers --- all a part of the wonderful world of Golf. Whether or not golf is 'a nice walk ruined' may be debated, but to the members of the golf team, it is great fun and a fine sport.

This year's team was young and inexperienced. However, under the able direction and instruction of Coach Robert Dunbar, who plays top golf himself, the team ended the season with an impressive record of 9 wins and only 3 defeats.

This year, Jim Good was the golfer with the best stroke average. He was followed closely by Kenny Atwell and Tom Bauder, with Tim Miller improving rapidly at the close of the season. Bill Atwell, a Freshman, along with Senior, Steve Weaver, rounded out the team.

Losing only Weaver from this squad of linksmen by graduation, Ben Davis boosters can look forward to a fine team the next two years.

Known as the sport that "anyone can play" whether you are young or old, tennis is really a sport that requires quick thinking, good co-ordination, and top condition. It is just as demanding, both physically and mentally, as any other sport an athlete is privileged to play. Here at Ben Davis, tennis is on the upswing in popularity.

Lack of experience was the determining factor with the tennis team this season, but the racket-men showed much potential, and with all lettermen returning, next season should bring a big improvement on their record.

The first match of the season was against Southport, and the net-men went down in defeat 5-2. The next match went to Ben Davis as they defeated Park School 5-2, then Crispus Attucks forfeited to the Giants by not showing up for the game. The rest of the season was spent in the gloom of seven straight defeats, but the net squad didn't lose their spirit and gained valuable experience that will be evident in a better record next year.

With the addition of two new courts, we will be able to play our matches at home which always adds to our chances.

Tennis Coach, Robert Lee comes from Plainfield and teaches grade school at Tyndall Town. He expresses confidence in his boys, and boys and coach alike say that they will improve on the 2 won, 8 lost record of this year.

...by the interest of girls in athletics

A group of girls watch intently as Patty York "belts one" in a girls' softball game.

After school sports activity is enjoyed by 22 girls who make up the Girls' Athletic Association of Ben Davis. They enjoy participating in such sports as basketball, baseball, tennis, and other team sports each Tuesday afternoon.

By participating in and attending the meetings, the girls can acquire credit through a point system. When their points total 250, they are entitled to an athletic letter the same as the boys are.

The G.A.A., which was organized by Mrs. Vivian Summeier, Miss Marilyn Benson, and Mrs. Margaret Dunlap in 1953, is presently under the supervision of Mrs. Summeier, Mrs. Margaret Shuler, and Miss Benson.

The 1958-'59 officers of the club are: Marian Dierdorf, president; Toodie Hayward, vice-president; Judy Harrell, secretary, and Donna Kempster, treasurer.

Each year the G.A.A. gives several awards to girls who excell in certain sports. However, the award that is looked on as a special honor to receive is the sportsmanship award, which was presented to Donna Kempster this year.

The Varsity Cheerleaders who did so much to keep up school spirit and enthusiasm at Ben Davis ball games were: LEFT TO RIGHT: Sue Farr, Ann Weschler, Sandy Allen, Delores Frost, and Eileen Taylor. These girls, all Juniors, were re-elected to lead our cheer-bloc next year--a good indication of their ability and popularity.

...by cheering our team to victory

"Victory--Victory is our cry!" yell our Ben Davis Varsity Cheerleaders at the first basketball 'convo' this year. In the background, surrounded by Megaphones, is our favorite giant, Big Ben. In the front is Sue Farr, followed by Eileen Taylor, Sandy Allen, Ann Weschler, and Delores Frost.

as we build great loyalty and spirit

Some of the credit for our great athletic record at Ben Davis must be given to Miss Benson and the cheerleaders that she directs. Spirit and enthusiasm are often the deciding factors at a ball game, and the Giant athletes could always look over at the sidelines and see that the cheerleaders were 'on the job' of keeping the fans cheering the team on to victory. Even when things looked "black" for old B.D., they never lost heart and worked just as hard when we were behind as when we were winning.

This game-winning kind of cheerleading doesn't just happen. It is, rather, a logical result which comes from the best in instruction and hard work. Miss Benson provides the "know-how" as she takes the winners of the try-outs in the spring and puts them 'through their paces' over and over until they are able to put on the intricate yell formations that are their trade-mark. The girls do their part by devoting their time and efforts, by planning and practicing new yells, and by leading pep rally convocations which do so much in building school spirit.

The students and fans of Ben Davis are proud of their pretty yell leaders and the fine job they are doing in boosting our teams to victory by their peppy cheerleading.

Faculty 59

Greetings to all students, faculty members, and parents of students at Ben Davis High. The good that a high school can do depends upon many individuals. The ability to be a part and make room for others is manifest by most individuals at Ben Davis High. This willingness to cooperate for the good of the entire organization is one of the most important factors that makes our high school the fine learning institution it is.

May we each continue to better our high school by giving the best that we have. Thanks for a job well done.

Very sincerely yours,

Madison T. Shadley

...with top administrators

The task of running our Ben Davis High School from an administrative standpoint is a job that requires the top efforts of top men. Here at Ben Davis we have the largest township school system in the United States, and the job of Supervisory Principal to all the Grade Schools, Junior High Schools, and the Senior High falls to Mr. Frank Cline. He interviews prospective teachers, helps to develop policy, and is the laison between the teachers and the trustee, Mr. Sam Lang.

Principal Madison T. Shadley has the responsibility of running the Senior High School with its four buildings, eighty-three teachers, and nineteen hundred students. His day is filled with making decisions, enforcing policy, and correcting anything that interferes with the smooth operation of our huge school.

Our school is growing rapidly, and with that growth comes added problems and responsibility. We feel that these men have done much to make our school the fine school it is, and that they will continue to work diligently to give us the very best in administration and supervision.

Principal of Ben Davis High School is Mr. Madison T. Shadley.

The campus at Ben Davis is as large as many colleges. Because of this, it is necessary that we have principals for each of our buildings. These three men are our vice-principals and are a vital and integral part of our administrative staff.

Mr. Girton is in charge of the Senior Building and is also our Registrar. His job of enrolling students is a tremendous one, and few of us get through a year at Ben Davis without at least one conference with him.

Mr. Apple is principal of the Wayne Central Building, and he is also head of our growing guidance department. This year he set up and sponsored the new Monitor System which has done much to hold down the noise in our halls.

Mr. Wood, Junior Building head, is also director and co-ordinator of student activities. He does a fine job of organizing our School Calendar and putting on our convocations in addition to his other duties.

Mr. William Girton, Principal of Senior Building, and Registrar.

Mr. Richard Apple, Principal of the Wayne Central Building, and Head of the Guidance Department.

Mr. Howard Wood, Principal of the Junior Building, and Co-ordinator of Student Activities.

What girl has never had a problem? What girl has never needed someone to talk to as a friend? Few, to say the least, and here at Ben Davis every girl knows where to find just such a person. Mrs. Helen Mercer, Dean of Girls, and Head of the Language Department, listens with a sympathetic ear to the many, many problems of the girls who come to her office. Always a firm believer in girls acting like ladies, she has done much to raise the standard of conduct in our school. Her gentle manner, along with her courage to "call a spade a spade", has endeared her to the hearts of all 'her girls' at Ben Davis High.

...in solving personal problems

Many of the problems of a large school fall on the shoulders of the Deans. Here at B.D. Mr. Robert Seeman has the responsibility of boy's attendance, discipline, and attitude. Mr. Seeman's office is filled with boys and their problems much of the time. His genial but firm action in handling these young men's difficulties has done much to bring our school the excellent reputation we now enjoy. Never too busy to listen to our problems, he has a 'way with boys' that lets us know that whatever his decision is, it will be fair and square to all concerned.

Mr. Sam Lang, Trustee of Wayne Township, meets with his Advisory Board members and Township Lawyer Charles Mains to discuss problems concerning our schools. STANDING around Mr. Lang from Left to Right are: Mr. Charles Mains, Lawyer, Mr. Andrew Saunders, Chairman, Mr. Clyde Fulton, member, and Mr. Thomas Gilliam, member.

and providing better schools

Ben Davis High School has been growing by 'leaps and bounds', and trying to keep pace by providing the best in facilities has been the job of Trustee Sam Lang and his Advisory Board. That they have been successful is attested by the excellent school buildings and grounds we enjoy, and also by the new Grade Schools they have built in Wayne Township. Mr. Lang, who was elected to his second term last November, says that he and his Board will be zealous in their determination to give the pupils of Wayne Township the very best equipment, buildings, and facilities possible.

Because our school is so large, we must have a full time School Secretary. Mrs. Alice Harker is the one who is always so busy with the paper work, switchboard, and announcements.

Bouquets

Because this was the first summer-delivery Keyhole, Ifeel that it would be fitting for me to give credit to the people who made this book possible. Therefore, I extend my gratitude and sincere thanks to:

Sandra Hawkins -- who made the idea of Senior Advisory Editor a success because of her ability to advise without criticizing, and her faculty for being tactful.

Kay Wills -- who planned the book at I. U. and then distributed and explained the work so that everyone knew what he was to do.

Ann Syler -- for her careful attention to the tremendous task of preparing and editing the copy in this book. Also, Ann is to be commended for her faithfulness in staying on the job until the Keyhole was completely finished.

Sue Kinnaird -- who did so much of the typing and was helpful in all departments.

The Staff in general -- for making this year's Keyhole supervision a pleasant experience rather than a chore.

Max Galloway -- whose excellent photography and fine co-operation in everything helped make my work much easier.

The Administration -- for going out of their way so many times to help my staff get the pictures or stories they wanted.

The Students -- for the good spirit they exhibited when they learned that we were changing to summer delivery in order to make the Keyhole a true school-year yearbook.

Sincerely,
Glenn H. Fisher
Keyhole Advisor
